My dispensary visit plan

Complete before you go. Share only what you choose with dispensary staff.

What am I trying to accomplish? What do I want to ask?

Experience: first time / occasional / returning / experienced with a new form

Product: gummies / flower / concentrate / tincture or oil / topical / unsure

Budget including taxes, fees and any device:

Preferences, ingredients to avoid, and questions for my clinician:

Label: THC per piece or mL _____ CBD _____ Package quantity _____

My planned amount per use _____ Uses per week _____ Target weeks _____

Supply estimate: package quantity / amount per use / uses per week = weeks.
Use matching units (pieces, mL or grams). Actual use, waste and shelf life may differ.
Label math: mg per piece or mL x amount = labeled mg per use.
For weight percent: percent x grams x 10 = labeled mg; absorption differs.
These calculations do not recommend an amount or predict effects.

Ask staff: THC/CBD? How to measure? Onset and duration? Testing and allergens?
Final price? Required device? Secure storage and expiration? Confirm ID/payment.
Start with a small trial purchase when your response is unknown.

Do not drive impaired. Avoid alcohol. Lock products away from children and pets.
Discuss medicines and health concerns with a clinician or pharmacist.

My experience journal

Keep for your own reference. Responses vary; a journal does not establish a safe dose.

Date / time _____ Product / brand / batch _____

Form / route _____ THC _____ CBD _____ Label unit _____

Amount used _____ Labeled content _____ Intended goal _____

When did effects begin? When were they strongest? When did they fade?

What did I notice? Helpful effects, unwanted effects, or no change:

Context: food, sleep, other substances, and relevant medicines:

Questions for staff or a clinician before a future purchase:

Keep notes private. Do not use this worksheet to justify driving or early redosing.
Inspired by New York Office of Cannabis Management consumer education.
General education: cannabis.ny.gov and canada.ca/cannabis.
For shopping education and Ohio resources, return to the directory buyer guide.